

McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor

Cut the cost of security compliance reports

You care about your business and its customers. And they trust you to protect their confidential information. Regulatory and established security policies help you to develop best practices for operating in a secure manner. But how can you keep track of all of those policies and legislative directives? Your business requires a trusted, methodical approach to ensure compliance with those policies. You need a powerful, organized solution to manage and enforce your organization's established compliance policies.

McAfee® Preventsys™ Compliance Auditor cuts the costs of producing security compliance reports. Automate manual processes to calculate compliance risks, quickly identify policy violations, and ensure business policy objectives are consistently being adhered to across the enterprise.

When you automate your audit process with McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor, you can significantly reduce legal and regulatory exposure, save money on expensive pre-audits, and provide executives with the confidence to sign off on the effectiveness of their controls.

Regulate the Regulations

HIPAA, SOX, GLBA, and FFIEC are more than just alphabet soup. Regulatory policies, developed according to legislative requirements, are critical concerns for organizations of every size. Inability to comply with these policies may cost you dearly.

McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor works with McAfee Foundstone to provide advanced policy compliance reports. Leveraging Foundstone data, McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor links your security policies and standards to specific Foundstone checks. It then reports whether policy is being adhered to across the network. What's more, McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor lets you report against your own corporate security policies, not just industry-established frameworks like Cobit or ISO-17999. And with its specialized policy development environment, you can proactively customize and manage your organization's internal policy. Reporting against established security standards, such as NIST, NSA, and SANS, is also easily maintained.

Keep Score

Having confidence in your compliance strategy is of paramount importance. McAfee Preventsys Compliance Auditor helps boost confidence in your compliance status and efficacy with consistent risk and compliance scorecards. Ideal for sharing with your executives, clear and concise compliance reports allow you to inform your team without the need for laborious manual data analysis.
