

99% of financial organizations have adopted cloud, not all of it sanctioned by IT.

Trust in the Cloud Continues to Grow. Concerns Remain.

Nearly 300 IT professionals in financial services from around the globe report that 87% of their organizations have a Cloud First philosophy when it comes to IT.

Global financial services are adopting cloud solutions faster than most, but are still weighed down.

While cloud adoption accelerates, visibility and control diminish.

Shadow IT compromises security in financial services.

Trust in public cloud grows by financial services organizations, but should it?

The data center is evolving as hybrid private/public cloud use emerges.

As financial services move from private-only to a hybrid cloud models, the need for integrated security intensifies.

As cloud adoption increases, it is critical to mitigate risks, increase visibility, and implement control over all cloud offerings through an integrated security solution.

To learn more, download the executive summary.

"Building Trust in a Cloudy Sky—Global Views from Financial Services Organizations."

www.mcafee.com/cloudsecurityreportfinserv