

Intel Security Deployment Services

Comprehensive consulting services for a more successful McAfee product implementation

Welcome to the Intel® Security team. You've made a significant investment and it's critical to get your new solution successfully configured and deployed. By deploying McAfee® best practices, our global team of solution specialists help make your security rollout a success—enabling you to lock in long-term advantages for both your IT environment and your business. Together, we will ensure your outcomes are matched to your objectives.

Deployment Drivers

- Accelerate Time-To-Value. Scale the learning curve associated with new technologies and eliminate costly fault-finding and remediation. By drawing on our team's accumulated product expertise, deployment experience, and knowledge base of best practices, you'll accelerate product installation and integration.
- Reduce Implementation Risk. When service interruptions and brand reputation are at stake, you need to manage your risks as intelligently as possible. Relying on our experts, your infrastructure is fully secured and system downtime is minimized.
- Optimize Your Investment. When your products are configured for optimum performance, you achieve optimal returns on your security investment. We help you precisely tune your McAfee solution to prevent, detect, and correct security threats. Leverage our highly skilled team as an extension of your own.

Worry-Free Implementations

Time is always a critical factor in realizing a return on your security investments. How quickly can your new solution become a critical asset in your overall security program? Your team can certainly follow the instructions in a product installation guide, but implementations get exceedingly complex as you tailor a product to your unique environment and business needs. It's essential to put the right resources in place to reduce risk and get a worry-free implementation.

Our Solution Services team consists of security experts who offer a distinct combination of knowledge and experience to accelerate time-to-protection, reduce implementation risk, and optimize the return on your security technology investment. By relying on our expertise, you reduce the initial learning curve that comes with new technologies. Our deployment packages focus on the plan, design, and implementation phases of your McAfee security solution investment.

Figure 1. Intel Security Solution Services methodology.

Plan Your Project

Whatever McAfee product you deploy, key stakeholders across your organization need to be consulted and engaged. With our consultants by your side, you'll ensure the right parties are participating in the process—and addressing the right concerns. You'll have the confidence of knowing a proven methodology is being executed to facilitate the implementation of your McAfee security solution.

Design Your Solution

In this phase, we work together to review and confirm the high-level design of your solution. This involves mapping current and future state, and the action items required to make the transition.

Implement for Success

Here we address your business and project objectives, security requirements, solution integrations, support-related forms, security management processes, control processes and backup—as well as recovery plans, conflicts, and software updates. Best practices are applied in relation to system architecture, network architecture, port requirements, business continuity planning, capacity planning, authentication, and user roles and responsibilities.

The Power of Collective Knowledge

By relying on our Solution Services team, you capitalize on the collective knowledge acquired through implementations in all sectors, with thousands of companies, over decades. Most importantly, you tap into the expertise that's gained every day in the ever-evolving arena of security threats. You can feel confident relying on our collective knowledge to measurably enhance your deployment and reduce your risk.

Learn More

Solution Services—part of the global Intel Security Professional Services team—is the key to ensuring your organization gets the most out of its McAfee investments. We offer customized services for businesses of all sizes, in all industries, with even the most complex system requirements. Our specialists help your organization assess current policies, create new programs that meet compliance goals, and cost-effectively prepare for security emergencies.

We also help you:

- Align business and security objectives.
- Meet compliance requirements.
- Achieve comprehensive planning and guidance.
- Effectively maintain your McAfee security solutions.
- Apply operational best practices.
- Prepare for upgrades and migrations.

Find out more at www.mcafee.com/services.

